SALARY LOAN TO A PRINCE.

Canada Governor-General Buys
Uniforms on Installment Plan.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND DIRECT WIRE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
LONDON, May 20.—The Queen has come to the assistance of her brother in making his arrangements to go to Canada as Governor-General. Prince Alexander of Teck needs $10,000 for her wardrobe, and the Prince about $5000 for his uniforms and state robes. The Queen has agreed to advance the money on the credit of King George. The Prince has arranged to pay for them in installments extending over a period of two years.

COURTED WOMAN ABOVE THE CLOUDS.

MARRIAGE OF LICK ASTRON-
OMER TO STENOGRAPHER A ROMANCE OF STARS.

(BY DIRECT WIRE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, May 20.—What is likely to go down in the records of the Lick Observatory as the romance of the stars became known on the campus of the University of California today when it was learned that Robert H. Tucker of the observatory staff and Miss Ruth Standen, stenographer at the observatory of Prof. W. W. Campbell, director of the Mt. Hamilton institution, were married quietly in San Jose on April 23.

Both were granted a vacation and are now somewhere in the south on their honeymoon.

Their acquaintance was made above the clouds on the top of Mt. Hamilton, where both have been employed, the man spending most of his time watching the heavens, while she attended to the correspondence of his chief.

Tucker has been connected with the University of California for a good many years, was graduated from Lehigh University in 1879, and is recognized as one of the leading astronomers of the land.

The bride has been secretary at the observatory for the last five years.

Penrose Carries Pennsylvania
by Large Majority in the Senatorial Race.

(BY DIRECT WIRE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
ARY (Ind.) May 20.—Joint primaries of the Democrats, Republicans and "Progressives" were held in Lake county today and the partial results in Gary show some surprising changes of political complexion. In the Calumet steel belt in Gary, the "Progressives" were almost annihilated and the Republicans, third in the Presidential campaign, show an overwhelming lead at 9 o'clock. Results in fourteen out of thirty-three Gary precincts showed 1379 Republican, 443 Democratic and 59 "Progressive" votes.

Roosevelt carried Gary and the county in 1912. The Democrats attribute their heavy loss to the loss of steel depression on the foreign vote. Complete returns will not be known until tomorrow. In the farming districts the "Progressives" are expected to make a better showing.

Voting in Indiana Harbor, a steel mill town, in today's primaries totals 1113 Republicans, 108 Democrats and 49 "Progressives."

PENROSE IN THE LEAD.
Receives Immense Majority as Republican Candidate for Senator at Pennsylvania Primaries.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
PHILADELPHIA, May 20.—Statistics received from yesterday's State-wide primary show that Vance S. McCormick of Harrisburg received the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, defeating Michael J. Ryan, City Solicitor of Philadelphia, by about 26,000 majority.

Returns from about two-thirds of the counties in the State indicate that Boies Penrose's majority over J. Benjamin Dimmick for the Republican gubernatorial nomination will be about 150,000.

South Carolina Democrats.
State Convention Indorses President Wilson's Mexican Policy.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
COLUMBIA (S. C.) May 20.—The policy of President Wilson on the Mexican problem, Panama tolls and the tariff was indorsed here tonight in resolutions adopted by the Democratic State Convention. Approval also was given the regional reserve bank system.

Polite Bellboy Gets Fortune.
GENTLEMANLY YOUNG IRISH-
MAN RECEIVES BIG LEGACY
FROM WEALTHY WOMAN.

(BY DIRECT WIRE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
PITTSFIELD (Mass.) May 20.—Timothy Connolly, an 18-year-old bellboy in Great Barrington Inn, has received a legacy of $25,000 by the will of Mrs. George D. Farrar, late of New York, whose bequests to charity are $250,000. She was a patron of the hotel for twenty years.

In 1912, the politeness of young Connolly attracted her. She paid his tuition in Hallowell School in Great Barrington, where rich men's sons prepare for college, and last year decided him a house and lot in Great Barrington, which is now occupied by the bellboy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Connolly.

Today young Connolly received notice of his benefactress's remembrance and was informed that funds will be held in trust for him until he becomes of age.

Royal Neighbors.
Rock Island (Ill.) May 20.—All the officers of the Supreme Camp of the Royal Neighbors of America, headed by Mrs. Myra B. Enright of Kansas City, Kan., as Supreme Oracle, were re-elected at today's session.

Express Companies' Rights.
JEFFERSON CITY (Mo.) May 20.—The right of express companies to refuse C.O.D. shipments of liquor to points in Texas was sustained by the Missouri Supreme Court today.

AMERICAN SEES NEW COMET.

Astronomers at Washington
Naval Observatory Find Stranger.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
WASHINGTON, May 20.—Moving swiftly east by south, the comet discovered by European astronomers five days ago was seen tonight from the United States naval observatory here. As it melted into the haze above the northwestern horizon, it appeared to be a large, patch of nebulous light, without nucleus or tail. Deep haze prevented the taking of an accurate observation. The comet was not far from the bright star Capella, and appeared to be moving much more rapidly than was indicated by the observation of the European astronomers last week.

Manager of El Favor Mine Whose Parents Reside at Berkeley and Who Narrowly Escapes Himself. Tells of Desperate Fight With Natives in State of Jalisco.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
SAN FRANCISCO, May 20.—With nearly a score of Americans, English and other refugees from Mexico aboard out of a passenger list of 106, the Pacific Mail steamship Newport, Capt. Gardner G. Trask commanding, docked here today. Many of the refugees, among them United States Consul Clement S. Edwards, stationed at Acapulco and Walter M. Neal, general manager of the El Favor silver mines, state of Jalisco, brought thrilling tales of Mexican attacks and their adventures in escape from the war-ridden country.

Weak and wasted, but conversant from a murderous attack on him and his party in El Favor by Mexican bandits on April 25, Neal told graphically of the murder of two of his companions by an attacking party of natives who pillaged the mine, stabbing to death G. E. Williams, an Englishman, and A. E. Williams, an American, and his own child with death when the aroused natives stabbed him five times before he could escape into his barricaded house.

"The attack began as we were eating dinner," he said. "The natives broke into the cyanide plants, carrying off 20,000 pesos worth of bullion. The crowd of natives increasing about the company stores, I was parleying with them when I was set upon and stabbed five times, escaping into the office. The natives made a forty-five minute attack with guns and dynamite, and a detachment of Federal soldiers arrived from Hostipaquillo, rescuing us. We gave Gen. Francisco de Toro, who was in command, 1350 pesos for his aid. The natives destroyed about $50,000 worth of company property."

Consul Edwards, who boarded the vessel at Mazatlan, told of the attempted attack upon him at Mazatlan aboard ship at Mazatlan from whom he escaped by barricading himself in his stateroom. Consul Edwards will submit a full report to Washington of consulate affairs in Acapulco which he turned over to the British vice-consul when he received orders to leave. Edwards would make no statement as to the situation in Mexico at present.

With Neal, who was stabbed, were his wife and three children. Frank the soldier aboard ship at Mazatlan, and Reimers and Wilson, having been with Neal in the attack, were rescued by the British vice-consul when he received orders to leave. Edwards would make no statement as to the situation in Mexico at present.

When the Federals stood by threatening to fire, Mrs. Felton said: "They will never dare to fire on that flag," indicating the flag of the rescue boat under command of her grandsons.

"It's the happiest moment of my life," said Mrs. Felton as she recognized and embraced Ensign Bryan. Another arrival on the Newport was John Jerolman and wife, who have been in Mexico for years. Jerolman was arrested as a spy and thrown into prison for eight days.

REFUGEES TRANSFERRED.
The refugees from the southern ports have been transferred from the steamer City of Tampico to the Monterey, and the former vessel has been released from its contract with the government and restored to its regular service.

Some of the refugees brought a story to the effect that a party of thirty Americans had left Mexico to proceed overland to Honduras and had lost their way in the jungle. The account was vague and is given little credence, but the authorities of British Honduras have been requested to investigate the rumor and extend aid to the Americans.

Reports from Tuxtla indicate anti-Huerta sentiment there. The arrival of Huerta's gunboats along the Yucatan coast, it is said, might precipitate disorder, as their presence will be resented by the inhabitants.

INSULT KAISER.

SOCIALISTS IN PARLIAMENT
REFUSE TO RISE AS A MARK OF RESPECT.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)
BERLIN, May 20.—Confusion and uproar marked the closing session of the German Imperial Parliament today. The members of the Socialist party, instead of retiring before the usual cheers for the Emperor, refused to rise, for remained and refused to rise.

Speaker Johannes Kaempf immediately called attention to this breach of respect to the Emperor, upon which the Socialists shouted: "That is our affair," and tried to drown the cheers with hoots and hisses. These were answered by tumultuous applause from the other parties.

VERA CRUZ, May 20.—Marines assigned to protect Dr. Aureliano Urrutia, former Minister of the Interior in Huerta's Cabinet, are keeping careful watch to prevent a recurrence of the demonstrations against him by Mexicans or any attempt to do him bodily harm.

The American officers noted today the demonstrations against him by Mexicans or any attempt to do him bodily harm. The American officers noted today the demonstrations against him by Mexicans or any attempt to do him bodily harm.

ARMY-NAVY BASEBALL.
Army and navy officers are planning an inter-service baseball series. The series will be played in Vera Cruz, Mexico, and will be a challenge to the Fourth Infantry nine, which defeated the engineers on Sunday.

MAIL SERVICE.
The mail service with the capital and interior points will be re-established, if plans which it is reported are being considered by the Mexican government can be carried to completion. Through the efforts of the former superintendent of the Vera Cruz postoffice, Francisco Munoz, who went to the capital ten days ago carrying suggestions from Postal Inspector F. C. Robinson, now in charge of the Vera Cruz Huerta's Minister of Communications has announced that the government will probably empower the postoffice at Cordoba to accept from the Americans mail for Mexican points and deliver in exchange outgoing mail for transmission to the world.

COAST TELEGRAPH.
An attempt also is being made to re-establish telegraphic communication between Vera Cruz and Tampico over the wires along the coast through Tuxpam. This would relieve the wireless of the burden of consular business and less important official dispatches which are crowding the time for the disposal of the American warships.

SWITCHMEN FAVOR STRIKE.
Five Thousand Men Employed by Chicago Railway Will Vote Demands in Conference Today.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
CHICAGO, May 20.—The 5000 switchmen employed by the thirteen railroads in Chicago, almost unanimously favor a strike. If their demands for changes in wages and working conditions are not granted by the roads, according to an announcement tonight, A. F. Whitney, vice-president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, who was empowered by the vote to conduct further negotiations, said he expected to meet the Conference Committee of the railroads tomorrow.

LONDON, May 20.—That Princess Mary, eldest daughter of King George V and Queen Mary, was recently arrested as a militant suffragette and detained a prisoner for fifteen minutes before her declarations that she was who she is, England's Princess Royal, were accepted except with scoffing, became known tonight.

Every effort has been made to keep the fact secret. Queen Mary is furious over it. Her horror of militant women is well known. King George is said to have laughed at his daughter's awkward experience and declared it a good joke. Princess Mary, after the first shock had worn off, was able to laugh at it, too, and found herself quite unable to keep the story from her closest friends.

TO HOLD BACK TREATY.
Bryan Says He Will Not Send Colombian Convention to Senate Until Tolls Repeal Is Settled.
WASHINGTON, May 20.—Secretary Bryan announced today he would not send to the Senate the treaty through which the United States hopes to adjust the claims of Colombia growing out of the separation of Panama, until the Senate had acted on the proposed repeal of the toll exemption clause of the Panama Canal law.
Bryan added that he would not offer the new treaty to the Senate for ratification until it finally had been approved by the Colombian Congress. His latest information from Bogota is that the Congressional committee to which the treaty was referred had unanimously approved it.
It had been understood that the treaty would not be considered immediately.

Mediation Conference.
concerned with preliminary organization.
METHODS OF PROCEDURE.
The following method of procedure was approved:
"First, the plenipotentiaries of Brazil, Argentina and Chile will proceed over the conference. The Brazilian Ambassador will direct the proceedings of the conference.
"Second, the minutes of the proceedings will be signed by the plenipotentiaries and the three mediators; they will be countersigned by the three secretaries of the mediators and said minutes shall be drafted in English, Spanish and Portuguese, and five copies thereof shall be made, namely, one copy for each of the plenipotentiaries. The deliberations shall be secret.
"Third, the full conference will be held, first, for the expression of the views of the plenipotentiaries upon their request; second, for the presentation of a basis of settlement; third, for their acceptance or rejection.
"Fourth, the plenipotentiaries will be closed by a full final session at which will be stated all the particular circumstances considered, arriving at the final result of the conference, whatever such result may be. In the event of a favorable solution being reached, the minutes of the last full session at which said solution was accepted shall form the basis of the protocol of documents to be signed.
"Fifth, closing addresses by the plenipotentiaries and representatives, should they so desire."
An hour's conference was held to-night between the plenipotentiaries and the mediators, which was almost wholly occupied in the presentation by the plenipotentiaries of their views of the problem and their suggestions for its solution. These, it is understood, were placed before the plenipotentiaries informally as a step toward formal presentation later. The plenipotentiaries were not asked tonight to submit the views of the plenipotentiaries to the plenipotentiaries.
The plenipotentiaries intended so far as possible to sound out both sides before formally submitting their plans. The general feeling was that tomorrow some of the vital issues in the Mexican problem would be ready for submission.
While the plenipotentiaries were participating in the Constitutionalists has as yet been made by the plenipotentiaries, such a step would not occasion surprise as all plans are being framed by the plenipotentiaries with a view to extending to Gen. Carranza an invitation to join in a settlement.

Huerta Emphatic.

A train loaded with American refugees will leave for Puerto Mexico tonight, the government giving guarantees of safety.
HUERTA'S STAND IS NO SURPRISE.
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
WASHINGTON, May 20.—News from Mexico City of Gen. Huerta's announcement that the Mexican delegates to the mediation conference had no instructions to offer his resignation was received in Washington with interest, although it was regarded as having no particular significance. Officials of the Washington government had not expected Gen. Huerta to publicly proclaim readiness to eliminate himself.
Authentic advices from diplomatic sources, however, gave Washington authentic information several days ago that the Mexican commissioners were clothed with full power to act, and had been authorized to agree to the elimination of Huerta, if necessary, to bring about a settlement of their country's troubles.
This last step, it was assumed, would be taken only after it was apparent to the plenipotentiaries that there was no hope of a settlement.
Reports from the late conference at Niagara Falls had not reached the White House tonight when the President retired. Interest in official circles in the proceedings at Niagara Falls is intense, and will be followed closely by the President and members of his Cabinet by a special wire that has been set up at the White House for the purpose. Officials are inclined to be very optimistic. The unyielding attitude of the Constitutionalists has continued to put a damper upon the hopes for a speedy settlement of the whole Mexican problem, but the belief is strong among high officials that when the Saltillo campaign has been concluded, Gen. Carranza and his lieutenants will be induced to enter the mediation negotiations.

CABRERA LEAVES FOR WASHINGTON.
REBEL ON MEXICAN PRESIDENT'S CLAY WILL CONFER WITH CARRANZA.
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
JUAZ (Mex.) May 20.—Luis Cabrera, lawyer, Constitutional leader and mentioned as acceptable to the Huerta delegates to the South American mediation conference for the office of provisional President of Mexico, left Juares today for the United States, according to word received by Constitutional officials here.
Senor Cabrera, whose monograph on the Mexican situation from a Mexican point of view is regarded as the clearest and most adequate exposition of the plans and viewpoint ever placed before the public, will go at once to Washington. After a brief visit there, he is expected to journey to Torreon or Saltillo for a personal conference with Gen. Carranza.
CALDERON IN TEXAS.
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
JUAZ (Mex.) May 20.—Fernando Yglesias Calderon, Mexican jurist released by American troops from the fortress of San Juan de Ulua at Vera Cruz, is said to be at San Antonio. He also is expected shortly to come to El Paso and probably to enter Mexico for a conference with the Constitutionalists' first chief. Senor Calderon also has been frequently mentioned as a possibility for provisional President who might be acceptable to both parties.

DELAYS FIGHT FOR THE MOVIES.
VILLA ARRANGES BLOOD AND THUNDER AT TORREON FOR A CAMERA MAN.
(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
PENDLETON (Or.) May 20.—John F. Connolly, representative of a film company, arrived here from Mexico today with a story of the way James A. Galloway, a camera man, induced the rebel general to postpone for twelve hours his attack on Torreon previous to its recent fall.
Hearing that a night attack was planned, Galloway called upon Villa and the following conversation took place:
"Your excellency, do I understand you intend taking Torreon at night?"
"St. senior, it is so ordered."
"That's a h— of a note. How do you expect your friends in America are going to see you capturing the city if there is no light for me to use my camera?"
"War does not wait for photography," answered Villa.
"Maybe not, but all the same I do not intend chasing your army for weeks to be treated that way. What will your New York friends say? You'll have to make your attack in daylight or I'll turn around and let you and your army go to."
An hour later Galloway's packed mules, loaded with his films and picture machine, en route to the coast, was stopped by a messenger, who announced that rather than disappoint his friends in New York, Gen. Villa had decided to make a morning attack on Torreon. He did.

FIGHTS FOR HER CHILD.
Paris Police Called to Residence of Baroness Vaughan's Divorced Husband, Charged With Abduction.
(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)
PARIS, May 20.—At the instance of Baroness Vaughan, who was the morganatic wife of the late King Leopold of Belgium, the public prosecutor today dispatched a force of police to the residence of Emmanuel Dureux, her divorced husband, whom she charged with assault and abduction.
A violent scene had previously occurred between the Baroness and Dureux, the latter refusing to give up their child, who, according to the terms of the divorce, was allowed to spend one day with him each week. The Baroness was ejected from the house.
The police surrounded Dureux's residence, but he offered no resistance and the child was restored to the Baroness.

Dominicans Raise Blockade.
(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)
SANTO DOMINGO (Dominican Republic) May 20.—The Dominican government has raised the blockade of the port of Monte Christo, giving as its reason that it wishes to prevent smuggling. The siege and blockade of Puerto Plata, however, continue.

SENATE RATIFIES CONVENTION BETWEEN UNITED STATES AND EUROPEAN COUNTRIES TO SUPPRESS THE TRAFFIC IN OBSCENE PUBLICATIONS.
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
WASHINGTON, May 20.—A convention between the United States and practically all nations of Europe for the purpose of suppressing traffic in obscene publications, particularly post cards, was ratified tonight by the Senate.
Penalties for infractions of its terms must be provided for by subsequent legislation.
This convention was drawn by representatives of the nations concerned in April, 1910, and was sent to the Senate by former President Taft early in 1912.

RUST BILL REPORTED.
House Committee Favors Contention of "Plucked" Navy Captain for Restoration to Active List.
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
WASHINGTON, May 20.—The House Naval Committee today favorably reported a bill to restore Capt. Armistead Rust to the active list of the navy from the retired list. Capt. Rust was retired by the "plucking" board July 1, 1912. His supporters in the committee declared that he was a highly-efficient officer and that the intent of the law had been violated in his case.

TURN FORD HOSE ON JOB SEEKERS.
CRUSH OF MEN SEEKING EMPLOYMENT AT MOTOR PLANT STOP CONSTRUCTION WORK.
(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
DETROIT, May 20.—Nearly 200 employees of the Ford plant, recently laid off thirty days during the "quiet season," and other job seekers, were drenched by a hose in the hands of the Ford special office employment bureau of the Gray Construction Company, which is erecting a $100,000 motor plant as an addition to the Ford plant. The laborers went on obtaining employment, tied up the work at the construction company's plant for half an hour before the officers brought the hose into play. Action of this sort had to be taken as the men refused to leave the premises when told that no men were needed.

Extra Real Estate Tax Abolished.
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
MEXICO CITY, May 20.—The Chamber of Deputies passed a bill today abolishing the 50 per cent. additional tax on real estate, recently decreed by the Executive.

Everlastingly Adding Links to the Chain of Baker Shoe Stores on the Coast Baker Store No. 11—311 W. Fifth St.

FIFTEEN years ago the Baker business was a "short chain," but one that was destined to grow longer.

Almost yearly since that time it has been necessary to add a "link" to the chain to accommodate the phenomenal increases in our business—not only in Los Angeles—but also in San Francisco and Portland.

Fifteen years ago there was but ONE link to the chain of Baker Store—today there are ELEVEN—five in Los Angeles and three each in San Francisco and Portland.

No other shoe concern in the United States can show anywhere near the same ratio of increase in business.

The reasons for this unprecedented growth are known to every Baker patron—they are, SUPERIOR MERCHANDISE, LOWER PRICES, BIGGER VALUES and BETTER SERVICE.

Baker Store No. 11 which was opened at 311 West Fifth Street, Monday Morning, will be for men and boys exclusively and is by far the best and most convenient exclusive men's shoe store in Los Angeles.

This store is connected by an archway with our 451 South Broadway store in which is housed our large women's and children's department.

If YOU are unacquainted with Baker shoes and business methods we strongly advise you to join the large and ever increasing throngs of satisfied Baker patrons.

WATER ROUTES AFFECT GROWTH

Los Angeles Strategic Point on Pacific Coast.

Expansion of Commerce Will Be Stimulated.

Field Secretary of National Rivers Congress Here.

Capt. Wilson I. Davenny, field secretary for the National Rivers and Harbors Congress, who has his headquarters in Washington, D. C., is in Los Angeles for a few days' sojourn, having arrived here Sunday. Yesterday he addressed the directors of the Chamber of Commerce, and visited the Harbor Commission. Today he will go with members of the commission for an inspection of Los Angeles harbor.

Capt. Davenny was a member of the staff of the New York Tribune for several years, was one of the founders of the United Spanish War Veterans, and the founder and publisher of the Spanish War Review, the official paper of this organization.

During the past eleven months he has traveled 15,000 miles on the Atlantic, Gulf and Pacific coasts, in the interests of the National Rivers and Harbors Congress. He has been on the Pacific Coast since January, having come here to address the Inland Waterways Congress at its meeting in San Francisco. Since then he has addressed numerous organizations interested in the line of development he represents.

At yesterday's meeting of the Chamber of Commerce directors, Capt. Davenny said in part:

"The vision of the visitor to Los Angeles must be impaired or his power of observation strangled if he does not mark and marvel at the splendid substantial growth and development of the wonder city.

"Nothing so vitally concerns the future growth and the material development of Los Angeles as the development of her port facilities. Her proximity to the mid-west and the fact that she is nearer to both Atlantic Coast and European ports than most of the other port cities of California and the Coast, point to the possibilities in the expansion of her commerce.

"If the city of Manchester could afford to expend $37,500,000 to construct a canal thirty miles and a half miles in length that gave her access for water-borne commerce to the seven seas, and the markets of the world, surely Los Angeles can spend liberally of her resources to command the position to which she is entitled among the great port cities of the Pacific, and afford an open door to the markets of the Orient.

"Before the congress was organized, appropriations for river and harbor development were made irregularly or intermittently and always inadequately, the needs of the country considered. The congress, which was organized in 1901, has been carrying on from its headquarters in Washington for the last eight or nine years a constant country-wide campaign in favor of a comprehensive and systematic development of our water channels for commerce. It is the sponsor of no particular project, but aims to develop among the people everywhere an intelligent appreciation of transportation and particularly water transportation, in the development of industry, and the expansion of commerce.

"The interest in the development of channels for water-borne commerce is deepening in every part of the country. My time for a portion of last year was occupied on the South Atlantic seaboard and around the Gulf coast, to the border of Mexico, and every port in all that coast country is manifesting quickening interest in the subject of water transportation, due to the nearness at that time of the opening of the Panama Canal.

"I may say in truth, however, that no part of the country is so keenly alive to the possibilities presented by the completion of the canal as the cities along the Pacific Coast, so far as I have visited them. Of course, the exact effect that the canal afforded by the canal will have upon commerce generally, no one can accurately predict. It is reasonable to assume, however, that with the opportunity of a shortened haul by the cheapest form of transportation, it will wonderfully stimulate commerce and the expansion of industry, and the expansion of commerce may be extended."

FOR NEW ROUTE TO SEA.

Committees Will Report Tomorrow Night on Progress in Securing Rights of Way from Pico to Beach.

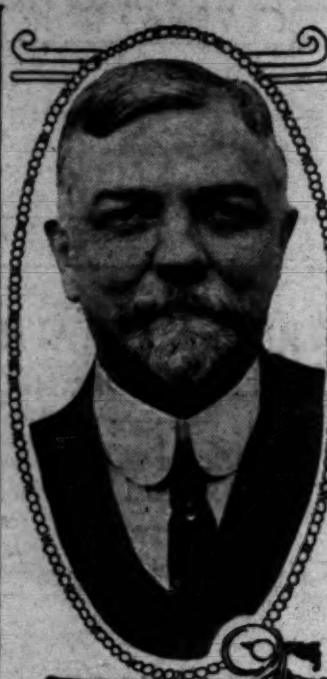

Reports of committees on the progress made in securing rights of way will be made at a meeting of the Pico-to-the-Sea Association at No. 609-11 South Spring street at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow night. Wilbur Davis Cook, engineer, will address the meeting on the results of his survey and will exhibit drawings of his plan to beautify the intersection of Pico street and Broadway and a map of that part of the highway that will extend through Sawtelle to Santa Monica by way of Fremont avenue.

The paving of Fremont avenue, three miles, from the ocean front to the Santa Monica city limits is well along toward completion and Sawtelle is planning to open Tennessee avenue to connect with it.

The plans of the Pico-to-the-Sea Association provide for a "ribbon route," an arm of which follows the Pacific Electric tracks into Venice and the other skirts Sawtelle and enters Santa Monica at Fremont avenue. All Pico-street property owners have been invited to attend the meeting and a big attendance is expected.

MINER BANKRUPT.

Chris N. Brown, a local miner, filed a bankruptcy petition yesterday. He gives his debts, all unsecured, at $11,577.30, consisting of a note and two judgments, his assets amount to $250, and of this he claims that $100 is exempt. The other $150 consists of $70,821 shares of the Potomac Zinc Company, and 1800 shares of the Lucky Strike Mining Company.

Capt. Wilson I. Davenny, Field secretary National Rivers and Harbors Congress, who is in Los Angeles.

Seeking Trouble.

used to being told how he shall run his business, so he treated McKinney and his partner with contempt.

THREE MORE GO OUT. Result: Three union men dropped their tools, demanded their pay and joined the great army of unemployed. Until McKinney arrived they had been content to earn a living and had asked no questions of the men working with them.

With McKinney's advent, however, a great unrest seized the workmen on the pile-driving crew. They saw in him that some of their co-workers did not carry cards in the union. To the Long Wharf, where the Stutter company was removing a hundred feet of piling, McKinney carried more unrest. Three union men walked out when they were told that any healthy man out of a job who showed a willingness to work could find employment there whether he belonged to the union or not.

"The net result of the day's work of the agitators was to throw fifteen men out of employment, retard development by a few hours and embroil the bay district in what appears to be a strike.

Agitators for the carpenters, paid a high price to keep the labor situation in a turmoil, are expected here shortly to start a strike of builders through the bay district. At this time, when the season is opening, and there is considerable building activity, the agitators feel that they can enforce their demands more easily than at a time when the work is slack.

LIKE A BABY CYCLOPE. Woman Becomes Into Detective Headquarters With Complaint and Then Blows Out Again. Arrayed in all the glory of a Titan and armed with righteous indignation over her husband's alleged indolent disposition which made him give up every job he ever found, a woman mailed into the Detective Bureau at Central Police Station, and without waiting for an answer, said, "I want him to send the chief of police after my husband. He's been getting ready to quit his job right now and he wants to leave me."

"My dear Madame," responded the lieutenant, "the Mayor of this city is not Alexander but Rose and his office is not here. Will you tell me your trouble?" and he smiled urbanely, inquiringly.

"Oh, Alexander is not Mayor, eh?" came back the irate one. "Who is this man Rose, anyway? But I suppose it doesn't matter. You men are all alike, you always side with each other and against the women. I don't see why that is. He's been getting ready to quit his job right now and he wants to leave me."

CHURCH APRON SALE. The women of the First Unitarian Church will hold an apron sale at the church, tomorrow afternoon, and serve dinner at 6:30 and will have a "penny frolic" in the evening.

"THE TIMES" SCHOOL OF DOMESTIC SCIENCE.

FOR the first time since The Times School of Domestic Science opened, over a year ago, a lesson on cooking meringues will be given today.

The cooking class will learn how to make a variety of these dainty confections as well as several sorts of fruit mousses.

A peach moussé, says Mrs. Bertha Hafner-Ginger, who is in charge of the cooking class, will be the principal attraction in this line of dessert, but she has promised the class a large variety of meringues which are easily made if her directions are followed and which are also wonderfully delicious.

"If you have never tried any of the fancy meringues," she said, "you will be surprised at the artistic results easily obtained," and the class immediately promised to have the "sweet tooth" in readiness for today's lesson.

Another lesson which Mrs. Hafner-Ginger has promised the class soon is a demonstration of baking by means of the electric stove, which is now shown on the platform of The of her father, who is still living, to make her her own child by law. It is predicted that the girl will come into a large, if not the largest portion, of the millions left by her foster father.

Singleton's brother, Robert L. Singleton, and his two sisters, Mrs. M. E. Cooper and Miss Sally Singleton, still reside in his native State, Tennessee. The dead man was born there in 1847 and came West in the gold rush of 1850. He wandered from mining camp to prospect holes, from desert to mountains, and from time to time made small strikes.

With the return from the Yellow Aster he purchased considerable Los Angeles property and his one-time home, Singleton Court, just off of West Adams street, was a show place of the city for a number of years. The house burned and the ruins stood for years while craspers spread their green to hide its charred frame and creaks and groans of many elaborate entertainments. Because of his marital troubles Singleton's home was never rebuilt.

These same troubles took him back to the mine and he was seldom in Los Angeles during the past five years. His widow and the father of the girl of the death and the time of the death and is bringing the body to Los Angeles for burial. Funeral arrangements will be made on her arrival this morning.

PLACE SPOOKS UNDER THE LAW.

SPIRIT-CHASERS SEEK CHARTER FOR SOCIETY.

Would Legitimize Outlawed Traffic Under the Guise of "Church," for Which Collections May Be Made With Immunity—Officers Elected for New Organization.

Spiritualists fakers and grafting mediums will soon be eliminated and communications with the misty shades of spookdom will be conducted only under sanction of law if the promoters of the National Independent Temple of Spiritual Science succeed in incorporating the organization, according to Rev. Mrs. Parrilla Daugherty. She is pastor of the organization and is seeking with others to exclude the "false" prophets who have been preying on the public.

Hundreds of members of the old spiritualist organization have joined in the new movement and a church already has been established at No. 1139 West Thirty-seventh street, where the reverend woman pastor holds weekly converse with those who have long since "passed over" as she explained. For several weeks the dispirited have been conducting a quiet investigation into the methods employed by medium mediums in separating the seeker after truth from his money and at a meeting held at the home of Rev. Dr. Oscar Ellis, No. 1139 West Thirty-seventh street, it was decided that the sect needed an uplift, if the confidence of the believers was to be retained.

Complaints were made that at some of the functions held by the old organization, the shade of Julius Caesar spoke with a pronounced Irish brogue and on several occasions the spirit of John Wesley is said to have used language found nowhere in sacred writ. At the same time many of the mediums were waxing fat from the spoils and emoluments of their office and the reformers decided that the time was opportune to call a halt.

The constitution of the new organization provides that the members after will assume the more euphonious title of "mediators" and that pastors and reverends shall be called "in the clear," and of similar rank. The following officers who already have been elected, will be installed at the home of Dr. H. H. Haxton, Monday night: Dr. O. Haas, president; Charles Hyma, first vice-president; Dr. E. Zorn, second vice-president; Dr. W. F. McBurney, W. F. Haglund, Mrs. T. Church, Dorothy, Mrs. Kuchel, Mrs. Comb, Dr. H. Silvers and Lillian Lloyd, trustees.

The various functions held by the old organization have failed to make connections with the other world, and who may be called upon to protect the members in court of law. HISTORIC GRAND JURY.

Men Who Indicted the Dynamiters and Aided Country-Wide Convictions. Held Anniversary Meeting. The county grand jury of 1910, generally spoken of as "the McNamara grand jury," having returned the indictments against the two arch-dynamiters, who destroyed The Times Building and murdered twenty employees, held an anniversary dinner last night at the Los Angeles Athletic Club. A. R. Fraser of Ocean Park being the host. They have met annually as guests of one of their members, since their association of eleven months on that jury, which has become historical, not alone on account of the confession of the McNamaras, but because it led to the arrest and conviction of their many fellow-criminals all over the country and terminated the murderous cycle of dynamite crime. Those present last night were as follows:

Charles Wier, foreman, Los Angeles; J. L. Matthews, secretary, Covina; E. E. Webster, Pasadena; J. H. Link, Whittier; Samuel W. Pyle, Pasadena; J. E. Carr, Los Angeles; S. G. Tyler, Los Angeles; Thomas B. Chapman, Rivera; F. E. McCollum, Los Angeles; J. M. Tibbets, Los Angeles; J. H. Cavanah, Redondo; A. R. Fraser, Ocean Park. Those who were unable to be present are John Scott, Duarte; E. F. de Garmo, El Monte; J. Vawter, Santa Monica; E. M. Lloyd, Los Angeles, and Jacob Swigart, Altadena. Two members of the jury have died—Samuel E. Allen of Pasadena and John Blosser of this city.

"DARE DEVIL" WILLIAMS, "LOOP THE LOOP" CYCLIST, MADE WELL BY AKOZ

Suffered Years From Injuries; Took Mineral Remedy; Gets Back Health.

Eight years ago, A. E. ("Dare Devil") Williams, who resides at 235 Oak street, San Francisco, and who flirts with death by riding a bicycle down a hundred-foot incline and looping the loop, and who also rides a bicycle off a platform a hundred feet high into a pool of water, was thrown from his wheel while making the "loop the loop" ride in Hot Springs, Ark. He was picked up for dead. The doctors patched him up, but left him a wreck. Since that time until last October, when he began taking Akroz, the wonderful medicinal mineral, he had never been without pain. His stomach was worthless and his nerves shattered. Today he is, after taking Akroz for five months, ready to resume his hazardous act. He writes:

"Ever since I was thrown from a runaway in Hot Springs, in 1906, and crushed into a helpless mass, I have suffered pain. Chronic rheumatism, the doctors said, with the added attractions of stomach trouble and other complications. The pains settled in my left shoulder, back and hip. I began to feel that I could not eat a hearty meal on account of the condition of my stomach, and my nerves were shattered. I could get no relief anywhere until I began taking Akroz. It has cured the Akroz mineral water and using the Akroz pills. In a week's time I got more relief than from all remedies I had ever tried. In a month I was free from pain, and in two months felt like a well man. Today I am as good as ever, having taken Akroz for more than five months. My nerves are O. K., my stomach is good, the stiffness in my knees gone and I have booked engagements for my bicycle act. I shall always have a supply of Akroz with me."

Akroz has brought relief to thousands suffering from rheumatism, stomach trouble, liver and kidney complaints, indigestion, eczema, piles, poison oak, catarrh and other ailments. At all drug stores. Call, write or phone for further information regarding this advertisement.

SEATTLE AND PORTLAND BENEFIT BY CUT IN RUNNING TIME OF SOUTHERN PACIFIC PASSENGER TRAINS.

Seattle and Portland benefit by cut in running time of Southern Pacific passenger trains. The cut in time is made possible by the faster running time of the Shasta limited south of Portland and improved connections with the Lark at San Francisco.

Under the revised schedule, the Los Angeles standard sleeper will leave Seattle at 9:30 a.m., daily and arrive here at 9:45 a.m., the second morning. This makes the time between Seattle and Los Angeles but five minutes over forty-eight hours as against the old schedule of fifty-three hours and thirty-five minutes.

The demand for better service between Seattle and Los Angeles, said District Passenger Agent McGinnis of the Southern Pacific yesterday, "has been constant. In fact, the constant heavy run of business from the Northwest since the through sleeper was put on amply justifies the better service."

Are Accused of Using Oppressive and Illegal Methods in the Collection of Debts. Warrants for the arrest of William J. Hittson and W. E. The warrants had not been served up to a late hour last night.

Yield Parallel in Old Lakeview Situation.

Main Crude Control Now in New Hands.

Although the fundamental to the increased over-production of light oil in California during the past six months, the 5-cent decline in Standard Oil Company prices for high-gravity petroleum, reported in yesterday's issue, was precipitated largely by the enormous yield from the Lakeview gusher.

The Lakeview gusher, No. 1, which has been flowing 15 to 20 per cent more with oil for several days, yesterday yielded at the rate of 100 barrels of practically clear oil. The Standard Oil Company, which has been having difficulty in handling the production from the well, is now in a position to handle the production from the well.

In some respects the situation is a repetition of that which existed when the famous Lakeview gusher came in several years ago, but, owing to the conditions it will not be as serious in its consequences.  Entered at the Postoffice as second class matter of Class II.

NOT APPEALING.
 An English expert has an aeroplane that will guide itself. As far as we are concerned that kind of a machine is welcome to be its own passenger list.

A LOOSE IDEA.
 A woman at Oakland said she believed that every married woman should have an affinity, that no home is complete without one. Thumper! That is no home; it's a harem upside down.

AN URGENT NEED.
 Now that the Congress of Mothers is in session at Pasadena a delegation of small boys should submit a resolution in favor of sterilizing all boys and hair brushes. These non-hygienic methods of spanking are highly objectionable to the hope of the land.

THE READ GOODS.
 Three beautiful and capable San Francisco women are anxious to be the next Lieutenant-Governor of California. The only way this can be arranged is to elect them successively. The one who has to take the third term will not like the plan, but it is the best that can be done.

CARNEGIE AND ANGELS.
 Andrew Carnegie advances the flat statement that all women are angels. Some years ago he pronounced a certain stenographer the most beautiful woman in America. Considering the two statements as evidence, we are forced to the conclusion that Mr. Carnegie's circle of acquaintance is not so large as it might be.

SPEAKS FOR ITSELF.
 The Banning Company is sending its advertising agents abroad to tell the people about Catalina. Glad to see that there are no hard feelings. Once in a while Catalina has political upheavals, but these are only the compliments of the season and the lovely island is still on the summer map. It never has to advertise itself a second time to those who have once been there.

THE GLAD HAND.
 The Rivers and Harbors Committee of the House of Representatives will come to California in July, spending two days here and two days in San Diego. It will be a pleasure to show these gentlemen the grandest little harbor on the map, as well as to tell them what Congress ought to do about it from time to time. Our people must give them a good dinner and ask them for a few millions.

SOME RAMPAGE FOR THE MAYOR.
 The Mayor of Wilkesbarre, Pa., stirred up excitement in attending to certain duties of his office, and when it came time for the headline artist of the Times-Leader to describe the event he did so in the futurist's style of mixed metaphor: "Mayor Kosok Goes on Warpath; Takes the Bit Between His Teeth and Bows Over the Policemen." It is much easier to laugh at such things if you never had to write them.

HORRORS! AND YET—?
 We wouldn't exactly call it poetic revenge which caused three exasperated Englishmen to capture a lone, militant suffragette on a road some distance from a city, to strip—that is, to almost strip—her and burn the clothing, then to hasten away. It was a dirty trick, but entirely in keeping with nature of men that will permit itself to be slapped, assaulted, insulted by a pack of women who are determined to destroy as much property as can be conveniently burned between teas.

ABOLISHING STATE COMMISSIONS.
 Minnesota has a surplus of commission government. There are seventy boards and commissions in Minnesota, that supervise everything from sauteing in church to shooting snipe. It is proposed now to reduce the seventy boards to six major State departments and the State Economy and Efficiency Commission has approved the plan. The main objections to it are the members of sixty-four commissions and their clerks and bailiffs, all of whom will lose their jobs.

Talking of commissions, The Times rises to a parliamentary inquiry. What has become of Holy Hiram's Rural Credit Junketing Committee? Are they stranded in Europe? Or have they returned? And if they are home, safe and sound, why report they not on the financial systems of the effete despotisms of Europe?

NOMINATING CONVENTIONS LEGAL.
 Former Judge Fuller of San Diego county is of the opinion that there is nothing in the direct primary law to prevent the holding of nominating conventions. He says in the Union: "If we drift along without any concerted action until the primary we shall have the Republican votes scattered over numbers of names for each office and are likely to be voted out of the primary by the solid vote of the enemies." The more experience the people are having with the workings of the direct primary and the inconveniences and evils it entails, the more faintly the justice, patriotism and effectiveness of the old-time governments are seen. To a large extent the direct primary eliminates all leadership for the biggest part of the campaign; no honest party leaders can pick out one set of candidates and give the people no choice; and it is not until after the primary that the party organization can get behind the candidates nominated.

THE TWO WILSONS.

During nineteen years, when Woodrow Wilson was parsing and dictating and reveling in the despotisms of a schoolmaster, Henry Lane Wilson was engaged in the diplomatic service of his country. President McKinley commissioned him in 1897 as Minister to Chile, where he served eight years. President Roosevelt offered him the post at Greece or Portugal, both of which he declined. He was finally transferred by President Roosevelt to Belgium. President Taft tendered Mr. Wilson a choice of the embassies at Russia, Austria or Turkey, but his private fortune was insufficient to maintain the expenses of any of these European missions, and he accordingly declined them all. He was finally induced to accept the position of Ambassador to Mexico.

During his nineteen years of faithful and distinguished service Henry Lane Wilson became a master of international law, who justly ranks with Wharton and Hall. Woodrow Wilson, on the contrary, if subjected to a civil service examination for a small consular post in Europe, Asia or South America, would ignominiously fail, yet his incarnate egotism in the White House presumptuously ignored the recommendation of his namesake and intellectual superior with respect to the course to be pursued in Mexico.

When Huerta became President de facto of Mexico, England, France, Germany, Austria-Hungary, Italy, Belgium, Russia, the Scandinavian nations and most of the countries of South America recognized him as such. President Wilson alone—in disregard of the principle of international law which declares that rulers de facto shall be recognized as such by other nations regardless of the means by which they gained the power—obtruded his use dist. swept aside the law of nations and announced that his egotistical view of the moralities would not permit him to recognize Huerta or have any dealings with him. This bombastic and unwarranted attitude was the source of our present difficulties with Mexico. If Huerta had not been recognized we should have had no more difficulty than we have experienced by the European powers.

Senator Alden Smith of Michigan in a recent speech said: "I would not recognize President Huerta now. That time has gone by. The President by his attitude has made it impossible for us, with dignity and honor to ourselves, to recognize him. Huerta even though the rest of the world had done so. There was a time, in my opinion, when it might have been possible to recognize Huerta under conditions which would have been acceptable to the American people. Ambassador Wilson named the time and the manner and the conditions for that recognition. It is in a part of the record of the Department of State, and I am going to make it a part of the record of this debate for future verity. He was not trifling with the power and the dignity of the American government, he was cautious and diplomatic."

Henry Lane Wilson—months after President Wilson had refused recognition—stated frankly that it could not be made with the same effects and the same results as immediately after the assumption of power by the new administration. It would be misconstrued now as yielding to pressure and force and would result in the loss of great prestige.

Minister Wilson recommended that recognition should be based on the necessity of the two governments to establish full official relations with each other. He recommended that no recognition should be accorded unless the Chamaizal, the Colorado River and the specific claims falling under a clause of international law should be submitted to an international claims commission, and an ample guarantee for the holding of a constitutional Presidential election should be given, and unless the Huerta government should be able to furnish evidence of its ability to restore peace and order to the twenty-sixth parallel, and unless the American government in co-operation with the Mexican government should be permitted to cross the border and aid the Mexican authorities in restoring order from the twenty-sixth parallel.

Minister Wilson in his communication to President Wilson stated very plainly that if recognition was not accorded in some form or other our duties as a civilized nation pledged to the world to preserve the peace and order of this hemisphere pointed directly to an immediate and effective intervention. This intervention should be done in the following way:

- (1) By directly removing the already decimated and ruined American population of Mexico.
- (2) By the transfer of the charge of our diplomatic and consular establishments to the representatives of other powers.
- (3) By the massing of our fleet in overwhelming proportions, aided by effective marine reserves at every Mexican port on the Atlantic and Pacific.
- (4) By the massing of our army, fully equipped for invasion, at every strategic point lying on the border States, and the calling out of the reserves in all the border States.
- (5) By the appointment of military commissioners, one of whom should be the Ambassador, another the general in chief of the army, another the ranking officer of the investing fleet, and another a member of the Committee of Foreign Affairs of the Senate. The duty of this commission would be to seek, by a preliminary action, a reconciliation of all the contending forces in Mexico, with the understanding that their duty should be urgent, expeditious and not detained by any dilatory methods, and with a further understanding that they should follow in the path of invasion, re-establishing the rule of law and dispensing justice and order in the name of the United States.

Any invasion should be accompanied by a public statement that our purpose is not one of aggression, but that we are acting in the discharge of a duty to humanity and civilization, and that when once constitutional methods and precedents are established, and firm government installed our troops will retire to the United States.

It was a part of the duty of Henry Lane Wilson, as is tersely said by the Indianapolis Star, to make these recommendations. He was in Mexico for the purpose of doing what he could to maintain harmonious relations between the two governments, with due regard to the rights and dignity of both. Because he was the man on the ground and, therefore, presumably better informed than outsiders as to Mexican conditions, he had the right to expect that his advice would receive respectful consideration. But because he recommended recognition of Huerta, and because President Wilson had decided that Huerta was a bold, bad man, with whom the Princeton pedagogue could not have dealings, his advice was not only rejected, but not even made public.

Now our government is intervening in a perfidious, half-hearted, inefficient, watchful-waiting manner, not with the dignified, justifiable and noble purpose of putting an end to murder, rapine and revolution in a neighboring state whose interests and welfare interlock with ours, but in order to enforce the shooting of twenty-one guns.

It is to be hoped that the A B C mediators may bring about peace, but whether they do or not, the United States will not easily emerge from the affair without loss of prestige.

THE FRENCH REPUBLIC.

France and French affairs have been very much in the public eye of late, and the recent revelations in connection with the Rochette and Caillaux scandals have shown her government up in a very unsatisfactory light.

And the general election, which has just taken place, gives ominous signs. The Socialists (as distinct from the Social-radicals), have gained nearly thirty seats in Parliament, chiefly upon a platform of electoral reform. This fact has brought the whole system of French republicanism under scrutiny, a system that is conceded to have been a signal failure after nearly fifty years of trial.

That France has been ruled and badly ruled by an oligarchy, ostensibly elected by the people, but actually with the feeling of the populace against it, is the curious anomaly that is now patent to all students of the situation.

Hilaire Belloc, in an interesting survey of the conditions, points out that this is probably due to the fact that the republican constitution of France was born of defeat rather than of victory; that it was originally framed and crafted conceived to aid the cause of monarchy, and that, once captured by the political machine, it proved a powerful weapon in the hands of unscrupulous demagogues.

Take the Presidency. This office was originally granted extensive executive powers and voted a large civil list, and the selection left in the hands of the two Houses of Parliament. With a royalist majority at that time it was assumed that a Prince of the legitimate line would be chosen to fill a position, but instead it has resulted in the successive choice of mediocrity allowed to accumulate great wealth during his term of office on conditions that he leaves his executive powers absolutely dormant and turns a blind eye on the doings of his colleagues.

And so with every other part of the constitution, which has been designed for the purpose of excluding popular action and making the restoration of monarchy possible, and which has become a powerful weapon in the hands of professional politicians.

The situation is peculiarly interesting in that Socialism has, to all intents and purposes, ruled France for the past decade, but in spite of their great powers under the constitution the Socialists have failed to carry any measure of Socialist legislation to success. The great masses of the people are against them, and while the most radical parliamentary laws have been passed, the government has failed to secure obedience to them.

Thus, to take but one measure—the anti-clerical crusade—they have never yet succeeded in more than partially carrying out the various laws and orders against the monks and the nuns. Officially these are forbidden to remain in France, actually the great bulk of them are still there in undisturbed possession of their monasteries. And the latest political scandals have shown that corruption has been carried to an extent never before exceeded by any system of government, oriental or occidental, and France has had to face the fact that she has been ruled by a small coterie of financial houses with a cynical callousness for twenty years or more.

France is on the verge of a great upheaval, a great change and reform of her governmental methods.

There are more than a dozen distinct parties and factions in French politics, the names of which give small indication of their aims and ideals—United Socialists (40), Independent Socialists (12), United Radicals (72), Alliance Democratique (66), Republicans of Left (50), Liberals (50), Right Party (18), Independents (18), and so on—almost impossible for an outsider to comprehend.

The political atmosphere is very tense in France just now and there is a feeling that the whole present system of government, and the present Cabinet, are on their last trial—being given their last chance to make good.

Hilaire Belloc thinks that the politicians are blind and deaf to this state of affairs, that they will pursue their cynical, corrupt way, and that there will be a mighty fall, and a mighty reconstruction in the government of France in the near future.

SWAPPING OFF ALASKA.

A proposition is being made by somebody to "swap" Southwestern Alaska for British Honduras, in order to give the Dominion of Canada that access to the North Pacific Ocean which she now lacks. The trade, if it could be made—how under the Federal Constitution we could sell or "swap off" any of our territory only Wilson and Bryan could tell—would not be acceptable either to the Alaskans or the Hondurans. The Alaskans would rather shiver under the midnight sun with the Stars and Stripes frozen to the flagstaff than fan themselves under a fever trying to pay off the $113,400,000 debt of Honduras. The people of Honduras point with pride to the circumstance that they and their progenitors have been British subjects ever since 1798. They appreciate the fact that they imported from the United States last year $1,227,500 worth of goods, and from the United Kingdom only $668,745, and exported to the United States $2,249,732, and to the United Kingdom only $309,336, and that the only hotel in Honduras was built and is being run by a Yankee, and their electric-light works and other public utilities are due to American effort, yet they do not want the initiative and the referendum and the recall, or to be prohibited the use of bitter beer and the wearing of checkered breeches.

There is no telling what Woodrow Wilson may do. He may be unwilling to oppose Great Britain in anything, but surely Porto Rico and 141 islands in the Philippines is enough tropical territory without taking in Honduras.

THE PLUMBER.

WALT MASON IN THE TIMES.

With stately stride the plumber comes, and stays around a while and plumbs. He gives the boiler sundry slaps, and tinkers with the pipes and taps and when he leaves my humble place a smile of gladness lights my face. For he has made a modern shack of my abode, which, three weeks back, was such as people used to own along about the age of stone. For years I bought all kinds of pills to cure my relatives of ills. My poor old granny had the heaves, and swallowed tea of honest leaves, year after year, and still felt punk, with daily spasms in her trunk. My aunt was foundered, and she knew green pains with every breath she drew, and though I bought her pills she died, the poor old girl was short of hope. My Uncle Hiram's rheumatism just kept him muttering, "Gee whiz!" And everyone around the shack had pink lumbago in the back. And then the Wise Man came along and said, "You'll never be well and strong, you'll always have the grievous gripes, until you put in modern pipes." The plumber came, with lead and brass, and freed the place from sewer gas, and sprung some sanitation curves—and gets the praise that he deserves. Now granny has no felled disease; she's swinging on the high trapeze; my aunt can take a fall from Goch in seven minutes by the watch, my Uncle Hiram, rid of aches, can whip Jack Johnson in three shakes.

Went Show Spots.
 [Saturday Evening Post:] A man rather untidy in his personal habits was discussing the question of a new waistcoat with a friend.

"What color would you advise?" he asked the friend.

"Why," said the friend, "I'd get one of soup color!"

[Philadelphia Ledger:] "A couple," said Mrs. Simpkins, "got married a few days ago after a courtship which had lasted fifty years."

"I suppose," replied Mr. Simpkins, "the poor old man had become too feeble to hold out any longer."

MADAM GOVERNOR.

BY EUGENE BROWN.

The Times is frequently in advance of public sentiment and is a notable director of popular thought. The paper has not only indicated the plausibility and possibility of electing women to high office, but has positively encouraged the idea of choosing one of her sex as Lieutenant-Governor.

"Why not?" the paper has asked in large and appealing black type. The query was both argument and challenge and, therefore, doubly effective.

But The Times has no edge on me. I am willing to go down stairs, where its footfall may not sound. I am even willing to dwell as a citizen and taxpayer in a commonwealth over which a woman should rule in the still higher office of Governor. It may be that she is not temperamentally qualified to sit with her heels on the executive desk and exhortate at an ornate brass cuspidor while discussing game warden appointments with the comitees from Mendocino county, but that kind of a Governor has faded anyhow, and is seen chiefly in fiction or on the stage.

Also the famous Governors of North and South Carolina, with their frequent hospitable meetings, exist only in legendary history. Nowadays when a Governor greets a political friend he does not pound him noisily on the back and ask him what he'll have to drink.

Not by a long shot. He takes him gently by the arm and leads him into a pale white cafeteria, where he presently regales him with a treat with a moist slab of coconut pie.

There are few of the duties and amenities attaching to the office of Governor of a State that could not be gracefully carried out by a woman. Except when some mine strike or interstate conflict seems to demand the presence of the executive on the firing line a woman could comfortably confront most emergencies and even in the more violent case it is possible her personal presence might be more effective in quelling trouble. There is a great deal of conciliation, arbitration and compromise in the public business of today and in these avenues of service a woman might easily shine.

Also when it comes to rearing an uninteresting series of half a dozen pimply and toothless infants and making sausages and respectable citizens of them give me little, old Mrs. Woman every time. Such a modest heroine should be able to handle the ribbons over so trifling a matter as the affairs of a State of 5,000,000 inhabitants and guide it safely to its destiny. Party conferences and petty appointments might confuse and entangle her at times, but in the analysis of pardon applications and in reviewing the practical needs of the State institutions her alert mind and innate sense of right and proportion might even indicate an improvement above a mere man.

History bristles with the annals of queens—and some of them blondest at that—and who have filled the loftiest chairs of authority with dignity, ability and renown. Several of us indeed feel that the late, great Queen Victoria, without feeling the least bit that we had been bunced in the deal. In fact, if we had in our households a hired girl who was as extravagant and negligent as the present Governor we would feel like having her plucked by the cops. And as relating to the office of Lieutenant-Governor, even the Scots whom Wallace bled would be glad to vote for a lady for that post, and no statute of limitations should impede the way.

The Times has pointed out that there is nothing in law, constitution or fact to forbid the elevation of a woman to the offices of either Governor or Lieutenant-Governor. The qualifications and conditions are the same. There is only precedent to overcome and these are being overcome daily. Even Galileo never dreamed of a Beachey looping the loop in mid-air with a ponderous gasoline engine strapped to his back.

The only requirements of the constitution are that the Governor or Lieutenant-Governor shall be a "person" over 25 years of age and five years a resident of the State. The modern woman is always ready to accept her twenty-five years, and she is not. But she does not often like to be called a person. When a woman says "person" she hisses it in about the same way a man says "old cat"—and they mean about the same thing.

Nevertheless as a term of political definition the word may be permitted to stand, and in the sense that a person is a human being with two hind legs and a vote women will accept the application with the graciousness of their sex.

Women are gaining official recognition all over the land. The office follows the vote—and on occasion it has gone ahead. It is only within the year that women have been granted the ballot in general elections in Illinois, yet a valued feminine friend of mine has been a justice of the peace in Chicago for half a dozen years—chosen by a clear enough head to know that the State of California, having toured the State as a speaker during the suffrage campaign. She is Katherine Waugh McCulloch, whom all love as a girl as bright-eyed Kitty Waugh and who has probably done as much or more than any other woman alive to give her sisters in Illinois the ballot.

In the average cases that come before magistrates and peace officers the reception of a just and intelligent woman will contribute more to the general good of the community than if the administration is at the hands of a man.

There is a woman Senator in the Colorado Legislature, and many county and several elective State offices have been filled by women in various commonwealths. There have been women candidates for the Presidency and the United States Senate, but the offices of Governor and Lieutenant-Governor have so far never been awarded to their sex.

The job of a Lieutenant-Governor is about the simplest and easiest thing in the world and is hardly worth an active and aggressive woman's while. It's not as hard as raising chickens, cleaning house or making jell, and might be classed as sweep- ing off the porch or making the bed. About all the incumbent does is to preside over the infrequent assemblage of the Senate at Sacramento, and even that is not essential, as the Solons would as lief name their presiding officer from their own number.

A Man's Conclusion.

CUPID'S FLOWER.

By Harry Bowring.

Cupid once, a thoughtless youth, left his home nest, and sought to find Tired of dreams, lack of money, Guided by a wayward fate.

That in harrier chase he sought to find Might discover for the love Where love's truest emblem grows.

In the bowers for Venus placed, Where the perfume breeze blows, In exotic clime, he found One bright morning, Cupid's love.

Burnt his old-time love, and crossed the monster monster's path Till upon his starved brain Worlds of desolation broke.

From a germ so rare had blossomed, Thro' a host where nature's power Grew a plant, unguessed, unguessed, In this wild world of youth and love.

In all the clime of youth and love, In a ring of space where youth and love, In a ring of space where youth and love, In a ring of space where youth and love.

Long the struggle, slowly grew, Full of faith the youth he drew, Beaten by the fate of love, Bruised with love and pain and love.

When at last the light was seen, From that heart a stem grew, Rich with fragrance, strong with love.

There love found its true home, Formed not in one day, but in years of love, Battling with love and pain, Thro' the leaves of love and pain.

At the close of the day, In a soft and quiet way, In a soft and quiet way, In a soft and quiet way.

on Boards.

BY GARDNER BRADFORD.

The fact that San Francisco beat Los Angeles yesterday was not nearly the sensation at Washington Park that the aftermath proved, when a huge bulk cast a shadow over the diamond and a pretty girl took a picture of it.

Nearly everyone thought it was the Frisco emblem, a seal, the biggest in captivity, but it proved to be Jess Dandy, called by many a comedian.

Billy Rock, as little as Jess is large, denies the allegation, stating that Jess is a villain, but it develops that Rock is prejudiced against Dandy owing to the penchant of Jess to sit in front of, or on, said Rock, during the game, and obstructing "the candy kid's" view.

Saw a lot of Ginks at the game too, and received news from Worthy Scribe Frank McCann that Worthy Gesser Jim Howard called a gathering at Levy's last night, partly because it was opening night, but also to announce the annual clambake at Venice, June 6, with Mayor Marx of Detroit as guest.

The Ginks, by the way, are now housed at Venice.

Who should I run across yesterday but Florence Bell, the popular young leading woman who is visiting here with her sister, Mrs. Lester Fountain. "Just to have a peek at that only, and most wonderful nephew of mine." Many of you will remember her best as the creator of the leading role in "The Crime of the Law," or mayhap from "The Under Dog."

The real significance of the remark "it will be a cinch all the men go to the Orpheum" to see the tank act, didn't occur to me till last night when I discovered that the whole main door had been taken by the plumbers.

Lead pipe cinch for them, but who was it who was thrown out before the show started, surely not a plumber.

One would think the staidness of the girls would hold first place in interest but apparently not. Instead, the question is "where do the girls go when they dive, for they are apparently under water ten minutes."

Every sort of theory from trap door to diving bell has been suggested, but none of them show how, even in waterproof casing, the girls could get out of the tank without the water going too.

Yes, it is real water, else how could the ducks swim, and how could there be a tip. See the act from the balcony if you would get the best advice.

Have at hand a telegram sent to Capt. Jim Russell, now with the "Polo" of My Heart company, asking "why the bear as emblem of the 6-4-4 club." He read it in "The Times" while in Fresno.

Having tried of catching big audiences, Manager Montrose of the Majestic is now taking a vacation at Playa del Rey, with Grace Travers, Mrs. Montrose, Mr. Fish, Joe's hobby and he hopes to make a record while waiting for "Peg."

The local tangle, feared in case of a repetition of "The New Chief" at the Hippodrome, evidently is not coming to materialize as the sketch goes on next week.

So much interest was taken in it that this time the Mayor, Chief of Police, City Council, judges and others prominent in civic affairs were invited guests of the Hippodrome and a block of seats reserved for a second time. This will be the first time any seat in the house has been held for anyone.

What a wild and weird story comes from some one who knows Harry James, musical director of Burbank shows. Seems Harry has acquired an orange grove near San Bernardino.

Now, according to the story, he played seven up and won what horses were necessary to operate the place. Knowing the kind of a game Harry generally plays, there is every reason to believe some one has an over-weight imagination.

It was announced late last night that "The Dawn of a Tomorrow" by the same talent woman who wrote "Little Lord Fauntleroy" will go on at the Burbank Sunday.

And "A Knight for a Day" may go on at the Morosco, but it is more likely not to open until the middle of the week. This seems doubly certain as Daphne Pollard, who will be leading comedienne, only arrived yesterday for rehearsal.

Miller's Theater has installed a new ventilating plant, sure indication that one manager at least is optimistic over the approach of summer.

So many have asked "who is La Valera, who is coming to the Morosco," that it is not amiss to let slip a secret.

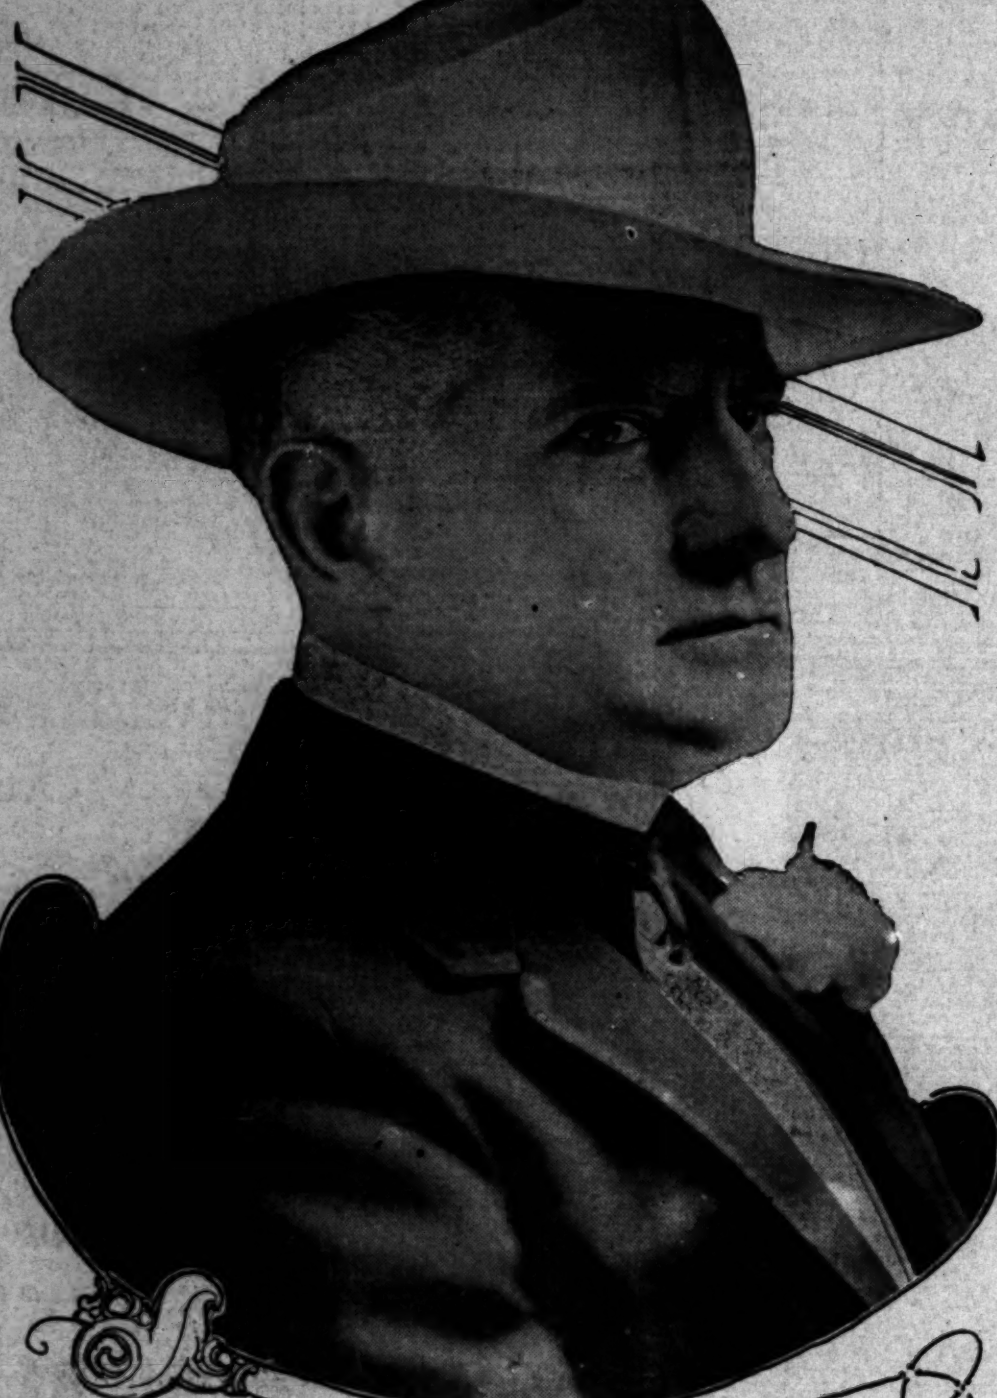

She is really Mrs. Horton Forrest Phillips of San Francisco and gained her first fame in a kirmess there, when her Spanish dancing stamped her a second Carmen.

She took the professional stage via the Orpheum and her most recent success was in "The Midnight Song."

HUGHES BEATS LONG.

Southern California amateur contest for the pocket billiard championship moved along one peg yesterday at the Majestic, when Hughes scored the requisite 100 balls against Long, the latter making sixty-eight. Hughes' run of eleven was best of the game.

CORONADO YACHTSMEN
PLAN LIVELY SEASON.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SAN DIEGO, May 19.—The programme for the summer was announced today by the Coronado Yacht Club, and the yachtsmen are planning the biggest season in history. A regatta week from July 6 to 12, when the yachtsmen of the South Coast Club of San Pedro, and the Sunset Club of Long Beach, will be entertained, is a feature of the programme. There will be four hand-some trophies given, including the R. Thomas Lipton cup valued at $1000, raced for annually; the Hotel del Coronado cup now held by Columbine of the South Coast Club; a cup given by Commodore J. J. Hernan, and a cup donated by the San Diego Yacht Club.

The programme of the summer will be opened by the Coronado Club with a big race on Memorial Day, open to the yacht clubs of the San Diego bay. Prizes have been given by Commodore J. J. Hernan, Vice-Commodore A. J. Jessop, Hotel del Coronado and the Coronado Yacht Club. Other events scheduled are:

June 14, picnic at Ft. Pio Pico, catboat races on week days throughout the month of June; July 4, annual

THIEF STEALS BRIDE'S JEWELS.

Several have been blunted.

QUEER SPELL DRAWS YOUTH TO A WOMAN.

THE MAD infatuation of Wesley Foss, a youth, for Mrs. Rose Nelson, marks the third victim in the career of this woman, stained by the blood of one man and the life imprisonment of another. To prevent her son from carrying out his alleged design of marrying Mrs. Nelson, who is twice his age, Mrs. Foss charged him yesterday with being a dissolute person, thus getting him into the juvenile court.

Mrs. Rose Nelson, widow of Frank E. J. Nelson, who was slain by James Cook for love of the woman. Cook is now in San Quentin for life.

County to Be Rose Garden by Exposition Year.

Added impetus was given the beautifying movement yesterday when the Mayors and Trustees of fourteen cities met in the assembly-room of the Hotel Alexandria and pledged their aid in making the county one vast flower garden for exposition year. The call for the meeting was issued by the Los Angeles County Beautifying Committee.

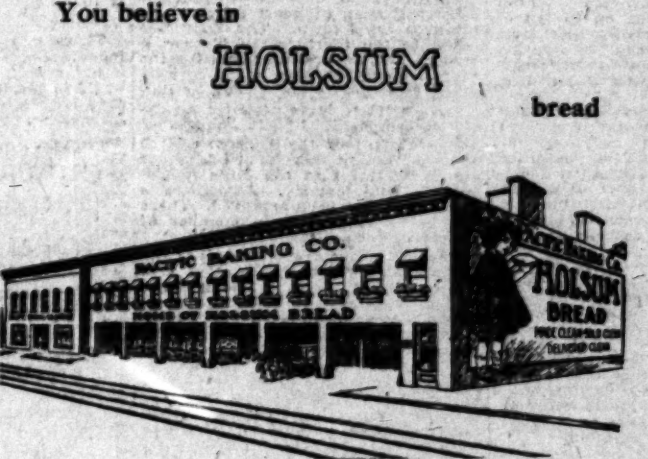

clearly nourished. But all our new streets will have parkings of sufficient width to guard against this. On many streets they are also uniting to plant one variety of trees and so get uniformity.

Mollenkopf, Monrovia; and F. A. Bacon, Claremont; and Chairman A. W. Ellington of the Board of Trustees of Hermosa Beach. Pomona was represented at the meeting by Councilman S. R. Boyd, and Arroyo by J. W. Calvert. Supervisor Hinsaw was also present.

in each class, $1000 for first, $500 for second, and $350 for third. The judges are to make their first inspection in January, 1915, again during the summer, and the final inspection in the fall of that year. The committee has also purchased 13,000 rose slips for planting on trees and shrubs on the good roads boulevards. This work is now going on in conjunction with the County Highway Commission.

Wholesome Living

You believe in wholesome living—you endeavor to practice it.
You believe in wholesome morals—wholesome character.
You believe in a wholesome country, a wholesome climate and a wholesome city.
You believe in wholesome laws, wholesome politics, and wholesome business.
You believe in wholesome schools, wholesome neighborhoods and wholesome homes.
You believe in wholesome children, mentally, morally and physically.
You believe in wholesome food—clean, pure, substantial, healthful and, if you have followed our story or have visited our model bakery,

Some important cities of the world have had to build their own municipal bread plants in order to insure clean, pure, safe and perfect bread to their inhabitants.

Fortunately you do not have to do that. All that was accomplished by those municipal bakeries in cleanliness, purity, safety, substance and values has been accomplished for Los Angeles people by the Pacific Baking Company, a local independent bread-baking company.

The welfare of employees has likewise been cared for.
All this because of one, or, if you choose, two reasons—the high ideals of the management of the Pacific Baking Company, for their own sake first, and, second, because these ideals practiced bring financial rewards, as well as immense rewards of pleasure and satisfaction over a good work well done.

The Pacific Baking Company is taking nothing out of Los Angeles. It is contributing the most good it knows to the people of Los Angeles in health, cleanliness, purity, safety and welfare. It has built a model bakery business in a model city of happy people, for the welfare of those people, knowing that in this way and this way only it will be rewarded through the co-operation of these people.

This is why you are interested in us as we are in you, and this gives us a very real mutual and wholesome interest in

GLAD HANDERS DEPART.

Amid the waving of handkerchiefs, the strains of "I Love You California," and the cheering of The Times alre from the baggage car, the Chamber of Commerce special, carrying more than 100 business men for a "glad-hand" tour of the Imperial Valley and Arizona, pulled out of the Arcade Station at 11 o'clock last night.

The party will return over the Santa Fe at 11:30 o'clock Sunday morning after stopping at eleven cities. A twelfth may be added to the list, for President Cole of the Chamber got a most insistent invitation from Calipatria yesterday to make a stop there and enjoy the hospitality of its citizens.

Seventeen business organizations are represented in the excursion personnel. President Cole of the Chamber is director-general of the party and J. J. Jenkins grand marshal. The Long Beach band accompanied the excursion and will give concerts at every stop.

Oranges and carriages were taken along for distribution through Arizona. The Redondo Beach Chamber of Commerce donated the carnations, 1500 of them, for the ladies of the new State.

The Public Service.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

Although the points of the proposed harbor terminal agreement have been under consideration more than a year between the Harbor Commission and the railway officials, a final agreement has not been reached on several basic principles.

The Building Ordinance Revision Commission yesterday submitted to the City Council its draft of the new reinforced concrete ordinance and urged its immediate adoption. Since its reorganization, this commission has accomplished much work on the building ordinance.

The Council yesterday denied the protests against the proposed Alameda-street storm drain and the ordinance will soon be passed. The improvement will cost about a half million dollars.

A man who took his bride to a tent which she left when it leaked during a rain, was denied a divorce yesterday by Judge Monroe.

An effort to show that a man was unsound in mind because on a trip around the world he mailed 6000 postals to friends, is the feature of a will contest in the Superior Court.

At the City Hall.

POINTS YET TO BE DETERMINED.

HARBOR TERMINAL AGREEMENT IN ABYSS.

Some Basic Principles Still Undecided and Commission Anxious to Reach Conclusion With Pacific Electric and Southern Pacific.

Under Consideration a Year.

The Harbor Commission for more than a year past has had negotiations under way between itself and the representatives of the Southern Pacific and Pacific Electric railways with a view to solving the railway terminal problems at the harbor by the creation of a municipal harbor terminal. The subject is not yet closed, and there still remain several basic principles to be determined in formulating the general articles of agreement. The commission is exceedingly anxious to get these points definitely settled, in order that the comprehensive project may be worked out in detail.

A summary of the main points agreed upon includes the proposal that the railroad will lease to the city such of their operative property as is necessary for the proposed terminal; that the city will pay to the railroad 5 per cent a year for value of the property so leased; that a terminal charge shall be made sufficient to yield a 5 per cent return, plus the cost of operation and maintenance, such terminal charge to come out of the line of the railroad; that over whose line the freight moves, unless otherwise ordered by the State Railroad Commission; that the city will enter into an operating agreement with one of the railroads, presumably the Pacific Electric, by which such railroad will perform the physical operation of the terminals upon a basis to be agreed upon.

In addition to these there must yet be decided the following points: Shall the city become a common carrier or shall it enter into a contract with the Pacific Electric Company? Shall the city make the extensions necessary to accommodate traffic, or shall this be done by the railroad? On what terms shall other roads be allowed to connect with the terminal? Shall the city actively operate the terminal, simply employing the Pacific Electric as it would any other employee to do the physical work? For what length of time shall the leases be made and the operative agreement entered into? Members of the commission feel that a year has been ample time for a solution of all these questions, and they will do their utmost to bring about an agreement with the railroad representatives at the earliest possible time.

A BUSY BOARD.

SUBMITS CONCRETE ORDINANCE.

The Building Ordinance Revision Commission yesterday submitted to the Council its proposed ordinance governing reinforced concrete construction and urged its adoption. In this connection the letter accompanying the ordinance states that it is the unanimous opinion of the commission that all interests would be best served by the adoption of the ordinance at this time, and that it is to await the final revision of the entire building ordinance, for the reason that at the present time the building ordinance is very inadequate in its provisions relative to reinforced concrete construction, thus not only handicapping the building department, which is charged with enforcement of the law, but owners, architects and contractors, who have to work under its provisions.

It is also pointed out that a passage of the ordinance at this time will permit it to enter into general practice and be scrutinized by the general public, thereby affording the commission the opportunity to submit in the final draft of the building ordinance any correction that might be deemed essential.

The letter also states that since the reorganization of the commission it has been very busy and that in addition to the drafting of the ordinance submitted it has repaired drafts of the ordinance bearing on the subjects of stairways and fire escapes, besides handling many minor subjects.

PROTESTS DENIED.

ON ALAMEDA STORM DRAIN.

The City Council yesterday denied the protests of property owners against the proposed Alameda-street storm drain, which for the fourth time in the course of the past few years has reached the point of passage of the ordinance of intention. The Council will now adopt the final ordinance at the first opportunity, and the long-needed storm drainage for a large portion of the business district is in a fair way to be carried to a reality.

This improvement includes the construction of a main storm drain, one portion of the lateral, sanitary sewer, paving of Alameda street from North Main to Sixth street, and placing granite block and vitrified brick gutters and concrete curbs. It will provide a thoroughly modern street with a waterway beyond it that will do away with the regular floods that

CITIZEN NOW AT ANY RATE.

Policeman Finds He's an Alien After Quarters of a Century.

For a quarter of a century Frederick W. Plischke hurried for the Stars and Stripes, believing he was a citizen of the United States on his father's naturalization papers. For thirteen years he has been a member of the police department. Once he served on a jury in the late Judge Smith's court.

Then the blow fell. He filed on a homestead, and when a copy of his father's naturalization papers was demanded, it was discovered that he was over the legal age at the time and had no rights as a citizen. He immediately filed his papers under Section 3 of the Act of Congress of 1910, providing for a continuous residence of ten years, and yesterday he was admitted to citizenship.

have overwhelmed Alameda street at every time of storm.

The storm drain itself will extend from North Broadway, above College street, to Second street, where it will connect with the storm drain that extends to the Los Angeles River. The sanitary sewer will extend in Alameda street from Third to Banning streets. The lateral for the storm drain will be in Market street and connecting drains are to be put in by the Southern Pacific above all its spurs on Alameda street.

It is estimated that the total cost of these improvements will be about half million dollars. Within the proposed assessment district there are 255,424 feet of frontage, and on the other side there were only 51,013 feet represented.

Lumber for Harbor Work.

The Harbor Commission yesterday received a report from its engineer on the bids submitted for lumber for harbor work—a total of $49,000.

This includes materials for shed No. 2 on pier A, Mormon Island channel, wharf for ferry slips, highway and railroad bridge between Prieis street and Water street, Wilmington; an extension of the fisherman's wharf and building for the wholesale fish dealers, and for a railroad trestle east of Wilmington.

The San Pedro Lumber Company is the lowest bidder, offering to furnish the lumber for $21,194.02, and make deliveries within sixty days. If the company segregates the lumber at the mills before shipping, it may be allowed an additional payment of 50 cents per 1000 feet on certain portions of the shipment.

Preaching Harmony.

City Attorney Stephens returned to Los Angeles yesterday after a trip with other city officials to the farthest reaches of the aqueduct. He will go to San Francisco Thursday night to take in the conference between officials of Los Angeles, San Francisco and Oakland on the proposed amendment to the contract for constructing for city and county consolidation.

"We found a great change in sentiment in San Francisco," he said. "The people of this valley are rapidly coming to realize that Los Angeles intends to treat them fairly and justly and that the rights of all parties will be protected in the handling of the water situation."

Minor Municipal Matters.

The Civil Service Commission will hold an examination on June 4 for the position of wharfinger at the harbor. The salary is $140 a month.

The subject of the Arroyo Seco parkway was set over by the Council yesterday until June 10.

Electrical Engineer Scattergood yesterday asked the Board of Public Works to apply to the Council for a further loan of $4000 to provide for the aqueduct power forces during May. This will bring the total amount loaned by the city to the aqueduct Bureau to $112,000, which is to be repaid from the first money available from sale of the recently voted power bonds.

The Board of Public Works yesterday awarded to the McCreary Bridge and Construction Company the contract for driving piles in the river at the foot of Avenue 19, as a part of the scheme for a retaining wall to protect the East Side Police Station property. The same concern was awarded the contract for constructing concrete steps in Lake Shore avenue at Kane street. The contract price is $127.

LEAKING TENT DISPELS LOVE.

There was little romance in the marriage of William and Ida Mohrman. Both had had previous experience. Had they been younger it might have been termed love in a tent, for Mohrman took his bride to a tent and everything appeared lovely until it rained when Mrs. Mohrman found fault and finally left her husband.

The story was told in the divorce court yesterday, Mohrman bringing the suit. It appeared that he advertised for a housekeeper and Ida responded.

"It's not a housekeeper you need; it's a wife," she said. "But we know nothing about each other."

"Well, you are not taking any more chances than I am," she said. "He accepted her proposal and the following day he met him at the lumberyard where he is employed

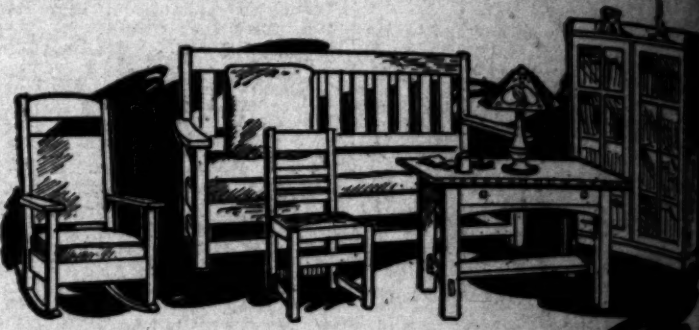

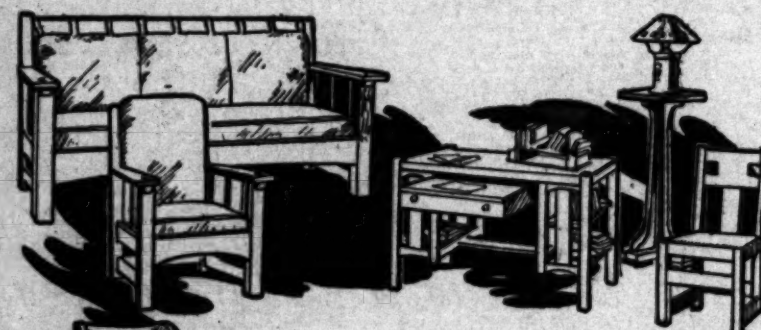

Easy Payment Plan

The Hamburger way of co-operating with home-furnishers. Outfit the home with Limbert Furniture—the furniture of durability and attractiveness—pay for it in convenient amounts. A little down at time of purchase, then the rest in easy payments. It's the easy way, the Hamburger home furnishing way. Ask about it!

—Hamburger's Third Floor—

Limbert's Holland Dutch Furniture the Best

"The Furniture of Substantiality" at Hamburger's Exclusively in Southern California.

—Substantial things, serviceable things are the things that people want. The very air is all a-throb with the idea of "genuineness" in both merchandise and service. This way trends every road to wealth and honor. And because Limbert's Holland Dutch Arts and Crafts represents the best in furniture of this type, the Great White Store has chosen this famous line to endorse, to guarantee and heartily recommend to Hamburger patrons.

Let Your Acquaintance With Limbert's Holland Dutch Arts and Crafts Begin Now

—Note the simple, dignified outlines and the rich, beautiful coloring and finish of the pieces displayed on our Third Floor. Our method of arrangement will give you an excellent idea of the way this furniture will look in your home. It's purchase means only a limited expenditure and generations of usefulness.

—Hand work and individuality are its distinguishing characteristics, machinery being used only where it is unquestionably to the advantage of the article.

Limbert in Making

Solid white oak is used throughout in the making of Limbert Furniture.

This best of cabinet woods is carefully selected and then cured by age so as to retain its natural strength and beauty.

No detail is overlooked that makes for attractiveness and durability.

It's Not the Price That Always Sets the Value On Furniture You Buy—It's the Quality.

—In the light of years of usage, price sinks into a place of minor significance compared with artistic worth and excellence of material and workmanship of Limbert's furniture. Furniture fashions may change, but in their mastery of the centuries-old Dutch art, the craftsmen of the Limbert Guild have created for posterity, Limbert furniture is the sort that becomes heirlooms.

—Yet "quality" and "price" are inseparable and so interdependent that the one cannot be maintained without the other. With Limbert quality it is easy to the Limbert price.

Limbert Trademark

Look for the Limbert Trademark in Every Piece of Holland Dutch Arts and Crafts Furniture.

—It is the maker's guarantee of quality and your means of identification. To each piece also is attached the Limbert Trademark Tag, an assurance that they stand ready to exchange or make good any piece might by any chance be in the least defective.

For the Living Room

—There's a delightful air of "Homeyness" about a living-room furnished in Limbert's Arts and Crafts.

—Structural perfection and beauty of design are the dominating characteristics of this artistic furniture and the richness and color harmony of its leathers and finishes are a continual joy.

—It is built for solid comfort and durability—to retain its handsome appearance after decades of constant use. Easy to keep in the best of condition, too, —a point the busy housewife will appreciate.

For the Dining Room

—For the dining-room, Limbert's Holland Dutch Arts and Crafts is the furniture ideal.

—There's solidity and an air of permanence about Limbert chairs, tables, master craftsmen who compose the Limbert Guild.

—The soft, translucent sheen and the rich, nut-brown or "autumn-leaf" color of the finish make a charming background for the purity of linen, daintiness of china, gleam of silver and sparkle of glass that complete the dining room furnishings.

Limbert's for Bedroom, Too

—For these reasons you will like Limbert's Holland Dutch Arts and Crafts in the bedroom.

—Dressers and chiffoniers are designed to give the greatest drawer capacity for the floor space covered.

—Drawers are dust-proof and unusually roomy—you can lay shirts or shirtwaists from front to back in some of them.

—Each case has one drawer fitted with button trays, leather-lined jewel compartment and partitioned spaces for gloves, handkerchiefs, etc.

Ideal for Library or Den

—You'll take added pride in the library or den "done" in Limbert's Holland Dutch Arts and Crafts.

—In quality and comfort-giving it represents the best.

—The beautiful simplicity of its design and never grows tiresome to you—and it will never out of style. The product of the Dutch descendants of the famous Netherlands craftsmen who put the best efforts of head and hand to the work of their hands. The handwork of men is the kind sought by people who appreciate quality and have an eye for the beautiful.

(Hamburger's—Third Floor)

and they set off to be married.

"Why did you marry this man on only one day's acquaintance?" Judge Monroe asked Mrs. Mohrman.

"Well, Your Honor, I married him for a home," she replied. "He took me to his tent and then he told me he was a citizen of the United States."

The decree was denied, it appearing that Mrs. Mohrman had looked over the tent before the knot was tied.

CONTESTS WILL PARODY ON KIPLING.

Dr. James Nelson Martin's trip around the world produced 6000 post cards, which he sent to friends and relatives. His best record was thirty-eight cards in one day. Attorney Cryer carries the cards to court in a grip and so far has read a third to the jury, to show the writer's eccentricities if not his unsoundness of mind.

Dr. Martin disposed of the bulk of his $25,000 estate to friends, cutting his wife off with $1000. She is contesting the probate of the will on the ground that his mind was not sound at the time he executed the instrument.

An exhibit is a parody on Kipling's poem, "On the Road to Mandalay," written by Dr. Martin after visiting the scene. Kipling, he wrote, had the jingle, but he was not true to facts. There are no flying fish within 100 miles of Mandalay, he declared. He wrote:

"On the road to Mandalay, How I've longed for this bright day, So ever after I could say, 'I have walked the flowery way, On the road to Mandalay.'"

Miss Anna H. Harrison wanted to talk over cards in one day. Attorney Cryer carries the cards to court in a grip and so far has read a third to the jury, to show the writer's eccentricities if not his unsoundness of mind.

FILE BIG BOND.

HEAD OFF ATTACHMENT.

The Moore outlaws put a spoke in the wheels of the regular yesterday when Attorney Bullock and Carpenter filed a $50,000 bond with Sheriff Hammel, subject to his approval, and headed off the writ of attachment the regulars had taken out several days ago.

The regulars are seeking to seize the equipment of No. 286, which is operating on its own hook, after the company alleged it leased the premises from Baker about a year ago, the lease to run until February 11, 1915, at a total rental of $10,000.

Baker, it appears, held the original lease which says "H. Hoffield, the owner of the premises, alleges expired some days ago. Mrs. Hoffield brought suit to eject the Post Card Company and the latter alleges that the election was damaged it to the amount named in its suit.

COURT PARAGRAPHS.

PROCEEDINGS IN BRIEF.

MUST BE GOOD. Jim Cameron, the negro boxer, has been made responsible for the support of two children, the parents of which he denied. For three years he is on his good behavior, failing in which he will be sent to jail. As far as he is concerned, Judge Taft told him yesterday, he had no redeeming features. He had added to the wrong he had committed by endeavoring to blacken the character of the mother of the babes. The order was to pay Mrs. Jessie Williams, the woman in the case, $5 a week.

WRECK VICTIM PAINTS.

The strain of being a witness was too much for Miss Ingeborg Swendsen, plaintiff in a $50,000 damage suit against the Pacific Electric, yesterday owing to her condition. Miss Swendsen was injured in the Vineyard Station wreck, July 12, 1912, and alleged that she lost her sight, hearing, sense of smell, taste and feeling. She now has partially recovered all the senses except speech, being able to use only a few words.

MOTHER LOSES CHILD.

Rosa Michael, the 6-year-old daughter of Mrs. M. Michael, was declared an abandoned child by Judge Taft yesterday, and its custody awarded to Miss Verna Shaw, a nurse, against the opposition of the mother. Miss Shaw will file adoption papers. She alleged that Mrs. Michael abandoned Rosa December 24, 1910. She was left in a hospital where Miss Shaw was employed and the latter has cared for Rosa ever since. Mrs. Michael attempted to take the girl from Miss Shaw and this precipitated the battle.

SEEKS DAMAGES.

EJECTS COMPANY.

Growing out of the addition to the City Hall and the election of the California Post Card Company from the premises at No. 246 South Broadway, the company filed suit against H. E. Baker yesterday for $4670 damages. The company alleges it leased the premises from Baker about a year ago, the lease to run until February 11, 1915, at a total rental of $10,000.

Baker, it appears, held the original lease which says "H. Hoffield, the owner of the premises, alleges expired some days ago. Mrs. Hoffield brought suit to eject the Post Card Company and the latter alleges that the election was damaged it to the amount named in its suit.

SEEKS DAMAGES.

EJECTS COMPANY.

Growing out of the addition to the City Hall and the election of the California Post Card Company from the premises at No. 246 South Broadway, the company filed suit against H. E. Baker yesterday for $4670 damages. The company alleges it leased the premises from Baker about a year ago, the lease to run until February 11, 1915, at a total rental of $10,000.

Baker, it appears, held the original lease which says "H. Hoffield, the owner of the premises, alleges expired some days ago. Mrs. Hoffield brought suit to eject the Post Card Company and the latter alleges that the election was damaged it to the amount named in its suit.

COURT PARAGRAPHS.

PROCEEDINGS IN BRIEF.

MUST BE GOOD. Jim Cameron, the negro boxer, has been made responsible for the support of two children, the parents of which he denied. For three years he is on his good behavior, failing in which he will be sent to jail. As far as he is concerned, Judge Taft told him yesterday, he had no redeeming features. He had added to the wrong he had committed by endeavoring to blacken the character of the mother of the babes. The order was to pay Mrs. Jessie Williams, the woman in the case, $5 a week.

WRECK VICTIM PAINTS.

The strain of being a witness was too much for Miss Ingeborg Swendsen, plaintiff in a $50,000 damage suit against the Pacific Electric, yesterday owing to her condition. Miss Swendsen was injured in the Vineyard Station wreck, July 12, 1912, and alleged that she lost her sight, hearing, sense of smell, taste and feeling. She now has partially recovered all the senses except speech, being able to use only a few words.

MOTHER LOSES CHILD.

Rosa Michael, the 6-year-old daughter of Mrs. M. Michael, was declared an abandoned child by Judge Taft yesterday, and its custody awarded to Miss Verna Shaw, a nurse, against the opposition of the mother. Miss Shaw will file adoption papers. She alleged that Mrs. Michael abandoned Rosa December 24, 1910. She was left in a hospital where Miss Shaw was employed and the latter has cared for Rosa ever since. Mrs. Michael attempted to take the girl from Miss Shaw and this precipitated the battle.

Southern Pacific Employees Near Retrenchment Is About All Over.

Eutawmitt Tells of Additions to Be Made in Near Future.

Crop Reports Fine and Financial Situation Is Cheerful.

BY A. P. HUNT WEEK 1.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 21.—Julius Eutawmitt, chairman of the Board of Directors' Executive Committee of the Southern Pacific, tonight on a tour of general inspection. He will look over the company's properties in Alameda county tomorrow and leave in the evening for Santa Fe.

President Spruille tells me that men have been issued by Vice-President Scott to increase the hours of our shop employees, so that they can be working longer hours.

Eutawmitt tells of additions to be made in near future.

The statement is taken by railroad men to mean that the Southern Pacific has abandoned its retrenchment policy.

Eutawmitt declared that the Pacific Coast is in a most cheerful financial condition. He said that the company's properties in Alameda county tomorrow and leave in the evening for Santa Fe.
